Installation

You have a variety of different download packages to choose from. They are summarised briefly below:

Name	Download Size	Compatibility	Skins	Database Size	Comments
V 1.0 (Small)	260 KB	Win XP, 2000. Variable compatibility with 98/ME	1	1 MB
V 1.0 (Normal)	336 KB	Win XP, 2000. Variable compatibility with 98/ME	6	1 MB
Additional System Files	3.6 MB	When combined with V.10 gives compatibility on all Versions of Windows since 95.	0	0	Must be installed after V 1.0

Compatibility

The normal package; that is to say V 1.0 (small) or V 1.0 (normal) is compatible with most Windows XP and 2000 machines. Compatibility with other versions of Windows is more variable. On some machines which have up-to-date system files there should be no problem, however on early releases of Windows 98, and machines which have not used Windows Update the program will not run.

If the program is not compatible with your computer it will display messages such as “Cannot locate jet32.dll” or “Jet Engine out of date or missing.” In this case what you should do is download and install the Additional System Files package.

The Additional System Files package should make the program fully compatible with any version of Windows since 95. Compatibility with some versions of 95 may be available however we cannot warrant that our program is compatible with all machines.

Compatibility with Linux may be achieved through correct configuration of 3rd Party emulators and emulated system files. As yet there is no official release of the program for any OS except Windows.

How to Install

To install any of the packages you should:

1. Visit www.overmark.vze.com and go to ‘Words of Wisdom’ → ‘Downloads’
2. Download the package you want
3. Using your favourite zipper program, unzip the file.
4. Within the archive there should be a program called something obvious. Run it.
5. Follow the on screen instructions.
6. That’s it! Restart your computer, and the changes will have been made.

Troubleshooting the Installation

Problem	Advice
Installer will not run.	Download and install the Additional System Files first, then try again.
The Additional System Files package will not install.	Contact us for further support.
It installed, but nothing seems to have happened.	This may be because have installed the program onto someone else’s menu, rather than your own. If you can try and add a shortcut to the program in your Start Menu → Programs → Startup folder. For further help contact us.
